The Worship Workshop Planning Team is an eclectic group with diverse gifts, skills, passions, and talents. Many share an education background. Most have worked together on Lake Harbor UMC's Worship Connections Teams for several years. With the exception of Pastor Mary, not one team member ever thought she would play an active role in planning worship, so the fact that they have been together for so long is a testament to what surprising things can happen. They will share more of their story at the workshop. Members include Pastor Mary Ivanov, Karen Booth, Barb Gripton, Betty Kinney, Karen Post, Lynne Richmond, Diane Thompson, and Vicki Zuker. Take home a bag full of information and goodies for worship.

I have been sewing since I was 12 years old. My mother could crochet and tat but she never learned to sew so, I am self taught. Looking at patterns and putting the "puzzle" pieces together had always intrigued me. For over 22 years I taught computer aided drafting at Lansing

Community College. So, I guess it is fair to say that I am a visual person. I enjoy working on banners because of their ability to communicate and the ideas are limitless (the Bible is a good resource for inspiration). Banners can range from: simple to complex, muted to brilliant colors, plain to embellished, and materials range from felt to satin and more. The message you want the banner to convey is what determines which of these options you employ. Join me to learn many of the steps to banner creation as you make a small banner to take back to your church along with some great ideas for more banner projects
